Recently Qualified Teacher Programme

Continuing Professional Development

£349 per delegate

£569 with Masters Degree Credits from Chester University

The Recently Qualified Teacher Programme is designed for teachers who have completed their NQT year and have between one and four years teaching experience. This programme provides quality professional development for teachers who are committed to expanding their knowledge of teaching and have ambitions to become leaders in the future.

Colleagues will attend the following training courses:

- The Teaching and Learning Pathway – creative and dynamic teaching techniques
- Self-Awareness and Leading and Managing Others

Each term, Specialist Leaders of Education will host network meeting that focus on developing subject knowledge and securing student progress through innovative and dynamic practice.

Colleagues who engage in this training will complete a school based project which integrates what they have learned with how this has impacted on student progress in their own setting
